Engineers to Give Village Estimate on Cost of Sewers

DeSoto McCabe Associates, engineers for the Village of Orland Park will proceed as such with plans for a sewer system that will serve the old village and hook up with the system that is to serve Orland Hills, a subdivision in the making that eventually is expected to add more than 600 families to Orland.

Eventually Orland's sewage disposal needs will be served by the Chicago Sanitary District but that may be several years away, it was pointed out. In the meantime the developer of Orland Hills plans to build a sewage treatment plant and will present it to the village for use of the community. The village will have to pay the maintenance and operating costs of the plant.

Robert West, of the McCabe organization, told the board members Monday night that when the plans are completed he will be able to give the trustees an estimate of the cost of the sewer project and aid them in working out means to finance it.

The sewers laid in Orland Hills, of course, will be installed by the developer but the village will have to finance the trunk lines and laterals in the "old village." Even if the Chicago Sanitary District was ready to give Orland Park service tomorrow the village would still have to lay the trunk lines and laterals within the village.

The cost, of course, will fall back on the people of the village. Revenue bonds may be employed to finance the project if the cost is reasonable. Should the village board figure the cost prohibitive then it would delay the work until a more propitious time, it was indicated.

Check pipes and chimneys:

Clean out of chimneys and smokepipes. Check for cracks and holes; have chimneys repaired—where mortar or bricks are loose—and replace pipes if necessary. Dirty and defective chimneys are a leading cause of fires.

Commerce Commission Turns Deaf Ear to Orland Park Board

Geographer to Address Sandburg PTA on Suburban Expansion

Chicago's suburbanites are aware of many problems related to the rapid growth of settlements in rural sections. The Cal-Sag development is a major project of vital interest to many people living south and west of Chicago so Carl Sandburg PTA has engaged a speaker for the meeting of March 21 who has conducted extensive research "especially in the growth of population and the spread of commercial and industrial activities in the metropolitan area of Chicago."

The speaker is Dr. Clyde F. Krehn, associate professor of geography at Northwestern university. He has prepared many papers and research charts related to the development of urban and suburban areas. One of his articles appeared last month in the transactions of the Illinois State Academy of Science. In addition to being a graduate of the University of Michigan, he spent four years at Harvard.

The meeting is to begin at 8 o'clock at the school. Mrs. Zay Smith, of Palos Park, is program chairman.

The business of election of PTA officers for the next term will be conducted by Mrs. C. A. Williams, Orland Park, president.

Invitations are extended to all aspirants to the high school board in the election to be held April 13.

Ralph L. Town, of Orland Park, who has served on the Sandburg high board for 18 years, is to be presented with a distinguished service member scroll as a token of regard by the PTA.

All PTA meetings are open to the public and those in charge hope for a large attendance.

Former Orland Man Is Named to Indiana Development Council

Harold Wymer, of Gary, Ind., formerly of Orland Park, has been appointed to the Northern Indiana Development council, according to Paul Linder, executive secretary.

While living in Orland Park, Wymer served as commander of the American Legion Post.

He is executive vice-president of the Gary Federal Savings and Loan and the recently formed council to which he has been appointed, is composed of top business and professional men. The council will develop and administer a program of public relations for the area.

Dismantling Cars Viewed as Junk Business

If the Arnold brothers, Robert and John, buy the Orland American Legion hall and two acres of the site, they will do so with out the assurance from the village board that they can use the property for a combined garage, used car and used parts business. As a matter of fact the board is saying "No."

Two weeks ago John Arnold appeared before the village board and outlined the use intended for the Legion property if they acquired it. Last Monday night Robert Arnold came before the board. He had the use intended for the property outlined in writing which he submitted to the trustees.

Five points were listed: 1. To sell used cars, 2. to operate a general repair garage, 3. to store and place on such property damaged motor vehicles, 4. to dismantle motor cars with the understanding that such work would be done only inside a building or within a suitable enclosure and 5. to sell used parts.

Unless the property could be used as outlined, Arnold said, it would be of no use to him.

Asked by Mayor W. R. Schussler, Jr., for an opinion, Village Attorney Raymond Pieper said he believed use of the property as outlined in points 3 and 4 would make it a junk yard and there is no provision for a junk yard in the Orland Park zoning ordinance, and the board members accepted this view.

Arnold was told that he could go before the zoning board of appeals and seek to have an additional classification adopted as a part of the zoning ordinance or seek a variation of existing provisions. In either case, it was pointed out, the village board then would act upon the zoning body's recommendations. Or the Arnolds could take the matter into court. Whether the Arnolds want to gamble some $30,000 on what action might finally be taken in view of the fact that the village board is not in favor of operation of business as outlined, is a problem they must decide, it was pointed out by Pieper and Mayor Schussler.

ANOTHER SON

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson of Orland Hills, in St. Luke's hospital, Chicago, Monday, March 11. He tipped the scales at three pounds four ounces and has been named Christopher Anthony. His daddy is the owner of the Illinois Lawn Equipment at Orland Park. The Johnsons have two other sons, Richard, 4 and Mark, 2 1/2 years old.

Chances for Orland Park to get safety gates for the Wabash crossing on 143rd street have hit a new low. The railroad itself has been saying "no" for many years and now the Illinois Commerce commission says the same thing.

In a letter addressed to Village Attorney Raymond Pieper, who at the instance of the Orland village board has been endeavoring to get the railroad or the ICC to do something about guarding the 143rd street crossing, R. B. Thomas, chief engineer for the commerce commission, says that that body believes gates are not warranted.

It seems that the ICC policy is this—if there are more than one set of main tracks crossing a street or highway so that a motorist or pedestrian might be caught in the middle by trains going in opposite directions, then gates are recommended.

The Orland Park crossing does not fall into this category, Mr. Thomas points out. While there are several tracks crossing 143rd street there is only one set that constitutes a mainline.

Flasher signals, such as are now in place, are a sufficient safeguard, the ICC believes. However, the ICC is willing to have one of its representatives meet with the Orland Park village board and discuss the matter further, altho the implication is there, Pieper pointed out that the discussion is not likely to have any practical effect because the ICC has made up its mind.

Trustee Joseph Leben said that while there was but one mainline it was difficult to tell at times whether the flashers were set in motion by an approaching thru train or by a switch engine; that sometimes a person thinks a halted switch engine is responsible and starts to cross the tracks only to find a fast train hurtling toward the crossing.

Mayor W. R. Schussler, Jr., pointed out that on sunny days it was difficult for anyone approaching the crossing to see the flasher lights.

The village board will still continue with its endeavor to get protection for what is described as a dangerous crossing.

Oranger, Now in Politics, Resigns as Police Commissioner

Elston Oranger, who has been serving as police commissioner of Orland Park under appointment by Mayor Schussler, has resigned the post.

In his letter of resignation Mr. Oranger said that he was taking the action because of his entry into politics. He is one of the candidates for justice of the peace in the Orland township election.

It is not expected that a successor will be named immediately.

Expenditures for the police department not deemed an emergency must have prior authorization by the village board, it was decided at the board meeting Monday. Obligations for emergency and operating expenses can be incurred on prior authorization of the police committee, which is made up of board members.

DOG DISPOSAL

Persons who have dogs they wish to dispose of are advised to call Orland police. The Animal Welfare plans to make a pick-up of dogs at Orland on Wednesdays. Persons who wish to avail themselves of this service must have the dogs tied up before the Welfare people arrive.

Praise Work of Orland Police

The village board of Orland Park is in receipt of two letters praising the work of its police department.

One of the letters, from G. W. Davidson in his capacity as assistant superintendent of Carl Sandburg high school, was in appreciation of the "splendid service given to the school."

"It is almost unbelievable what an improvement we have in the parking of cars and clearing out of traffic jams after school functions," the letter continues. "The fact that representatives of the law are present at activities has a tempering effect on general behavior."

"As a citizen of the village I further endorse my above statements. I feel far more secure for the welfare of my family knowing that every few minutes the squad car can be seen patrolling the area and knowing that should an emergency arise that help is only a phone call and minutes away."

"Thanks again for the splendid job."

The other letter was from Arnold M. Olson, of Riverdale, who told of having car trouble while passing thru Orland Park recently and of the friendly and courteous assistance given him by Patrolman Eugene Yunker.

"I want to commend you in having such a courteous and helpful man on the force. With out his advice and help we might have been stranded quite some time."

The Orland police force is instructed by Frank P. Guetter.

Burns Fatal To Homer Boy

A four-year old boy was fatally burned in Homer township Friday afternoon.

The victim was Carl Nielson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Nielsen 135th and Maple street.

His clothing became ignited at a rubbish fire at the rear of his home around 3 pm. The youngster's mother, Jeannine Nielsen, 29, related that she had burned some rubbish earlier in the day and had thought that the fire was out. She left the boy in the back yard while she went into the basement to check on some laundry work she was doing.

A few minutes later a man, whose name she did not learn, rushed to the basement door to tell her that her son's clothing had been on fire and the boy was severely burned. The man, a truck driver, was passing the Nielsen home when he saw the boy with his clothing ablaze. The truck driver smothered the flames and then brought the boy and Mrs. Nielsen to a doctor's office at Lemont. A Lemont resident brought the child and his mother to Silver Cross hospital where the boy died about 4:40 o'clock.

Just what happened is not known for certain but apparently there were some coals smoldering under the ashes of the rubbish and the boy is believed to have stirred them up and started them blazing. Whether he fell into the fire or was too close and a flame leaped up and ignited his clothing has not been determined. The youngster suffered third degree burns over approximately 80 per cent of his body. Coroner Willard G. Blood has not set the time for the inquest.

The Nielsen family moved to Homer township from Cook county about five years ago. Mr. Nielsen is employed by the Clearing Lumber Co.

Funeral services for the fire victim were held Monday morning at St. Alphonsus church, Lemont, when the Mass of the An-

Bluebird 4-H Club Study Sewing

Members of the Bluebird 4-H club which meets in the Lions Den at New Lenox keep rather busy between sewing, first aid instruction and other group activities. The picture above apparently was taken by someone in the group but they neglected to identify any of the persons shown. It is to be seen, however, that the girls are getting instruction in sewing.

Ministrial Body Organizes In Orland Area

Not all of the churches will participate as some of them will have their own services, but most of them will be represented in the

Orland Grade School Board to Ask Bond Vote

The Orland Park grade school board is expected to announce its plans shortly for proceeding with its proposed building program.

Preliminary plans for an addition to the present structure plus some improvements to the existing building have been drafted by the architects, Zay Smith and Associates.

The board met with its attorney, Franklin Klein of Chicago, last night to discuss the financing program to carry out the proposed expansion.

It is expected that the voters of the district will be asked to approve a bond issue to cover the building costs at the regular school election April 13. An estimate of the amount needed for the project is expected to be available within a few days.

The board would like to have the bond issue submitted to the voters April 13 in order to save the cost of a special election.

And speaking of school elections, there will be two posts to be filled on the Orland board this spring. The terms of Richard Farr and Victor Fisher expire in April. Both men have indicated they will be candidates for reelection. So far they are the only persons to have taken out nominating petitions in the grade school board election.

Supt. Norbert Jerling announced that the recent grade school basketball tournament sponsored by Orland Park, was a financial success. It netted $310, Mr. Jerling said, a sum that will be used to finance the annual field trip of the eighth grade pupils. Four teams were entered in the tourney. Frankfort finished first, Orland Park, second, St. Michael's, third, and Palos Heights, fourth. Each team was presented with a trophy. Following the final game a coke dance was held for pupils in the upper grades. Some 150 youngsters took part in this.

service that will be conducted in the Palos Park Presbyterian church.

The hours will be from 1 to 3 o'clock and the central theme of course, will deal with the Seven Last Words from the Cross.

There had been a ministerial association in Palos Park but on Jan. 28 pastors from Orland, Worth, Palos Park, Palos Heights and Hickory Hills met in Palos Park and it was decided to form a new association to include all of the clergy in this southwest area.

The functions and purpose of the group are varied, including united interest in community betterment, co-ordinated activities and fellowship.

The Rev. Herbert Mull, pastor of the Palos Heights Methodist church, is the president of the association and the Rev. Paul Lundell, pastor of the Palos Park Presbyterian church, is the secretary.

The association meets every third Monday, the meetings rotating among the communities represented.

319 Avoid Penalty On Vehicle Tags

The village of Orland Park issued 319 vehicle licenses for 1957 up to March 5, according to Village Clerk Bretland Blair.

Purchasers of vehicle stickers after this date will pay $7.50, instead, an increase of $2.50. If it is necessary to issue a warrant to force purchase, it was explained, there will be fine and court costs to add to the total.

Lane Carr, Joseph Weston Say Nuptial Vows in Wayside Chapel

Picturesque Wayside chapel of Palos Park was the scene of the 2 o'clock wedding ceremony March 2, of Miss Lane Carr, daughter of the Sam Carr's of New Lenox and Joseph Weston of Tinley Park, son of the late Joseph and Florence Weston of McCrory, Ark.

The Rev. Dr. Paul Sanders officiated at the service before an altar beautifully decorated with sprays of white mums.

Miss Virginia Donaldson, organist, played "O Perfect Love", "The Lord's Prayer", and "Pans Angelicus", along with traditional wedding march by Lohengrin.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown designed of imported chantilly flounce lace and nylon tulle over acetate satin. It featured a fitted lace bodice with a neckline outlined with lace appliques of iridescent sequins and rhinestones and long tapering sleeves. The flounce lace formed a pepum over a sunburst pleated tulle bouffant skirt and ended with a chapel train. It was worn over a Dior hoop. Her headpiece was a crown of pearls and iridescent sequins and it held her imported French silk illusion veil, which was edged with a delicate lace. Her bouquet was red roses and white carnations.

The maid of honor was Miss Joyce Gobush. Her gown was fashioned of white cotton lace of princess style with ballerina length bouffant skirt. It featured a short empire waist jacket with a crushed empire cummerbund of white taffeta ending in a large bow with streamers in the back. Her headpiece was a cotillion blue tiara of delicate petalled flowers and trined with rhinestones. She wore blue pumps and carried a bouquet of blue carnations. Dressed identical to the maid of honor, were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Joyce Tiner and Miss Nancy Grogan, nieces of the groom.

Frank Weston, brother of the groom, was best man. Usher duties were handled by Orville Tiner, nephew of the groom, and Tom Carr, brother of the bride.

A reception for more than 200 guests was held at 3 o'clock that afternoon in the parish hall of the Grace Episcopal church, New Lenox.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Carr wore a navy sheath dress accented with a white lace collar and cuffs. Her accessories were of navy and her corsage was of red roses.

When the couple left for an undisclosed honeymoon, the new Mrs. Weston was wearing a navy blue sheath and matching accessories. Her corsage was of red roses. They are now making their home at 711 Campbell st., Joliet.

Park District Sues to Recover Fees Paid Its Former Counsel

(CNS)—Oak Lawn Park district has filed a law suit to collect $1,495.90 from its former attorney, Dwight W. Croessman. The action, initiated last week in Superior court, alleges that Croessman padded his expense account on various occasions in 1953, 1954, and 1955.

Croessman was the park district's attorney during the fiscal years 1948 to 1955.

Attorney Louis F. Cainer filed the complaint signed by Thomas W. Dillon, park district president.

Dillon said the items complained of were discovered after Croessman left the park district.

The suit charged Croessman submitted and was paid for bills in the following work, alleged as fictitious:

1. Burda and Van Scheltema survey, $75 bill submitted Feb. 3, 1953.

2. Quo warranto proceedings, $400 bill submitted September 30, 1953.

3. Chicago Title & Trust company expenses, $83.40 bill submitted December 10, 1953 and another for $151 submitted June 1, 1954 along with one for $15 on revenue stamps to get title to Blue Top property "which were never conveyed."

4. Continuations on par district property, $146.50 bill submitted October 13, 1954.

5. Work that wasn't performed (not specified in suit), $250 bill submitted October 10, 1955.

6. Fee on condemnation proceedings, $100 bill submitted April 14, 1955.

7. Services rendered on tax anticipation warrants, $125 bill submitted May 17, 1955.

8. For services for approving attorneys, $150 bill submitted May 17, 1955.

"I've had trouble with the claim adjuster of my present auto insurance," said Frank Rosendale. "Can I switch to one of your companies."

"It may be," I replied, "altho we'd have to know more about it."

"Here's the story," Mr. Rosendale said. "I have my insurance on my late model car in a direct writing company. After an accident, I wanted the dealer that sold me the car to fix it. The adjuster insisted that it be fixed by another garage. The car never has been the same since. The adjuster told me," Mr. Rosendale continued, "that they have to watch every penny. His sole objective was to get it repaired as cheaply as possible."

"We've heard that same story many time," I replied. "Some direct writing insurance companies which feature price in selling policies, also consider it almost exclusively in claims adjustments. Since they don't employ local agents, they are free to dictate the adjustment basis. Being price conscious, they attempt to hold down all costs, including legitimate claims from losses. In other words, you get what you pay for. Unfortunately, that fact isn't stated when you buy the policy. You only discover it after a loss."

Why wait until you've had an unsatisfactory claim adjustment to investigate our quality auto insurance? Come in or call by phone. Anytime!

Bible, Science Compliment Each Other

By REV. BRUCE VAWTER
(Paulist Feature Service)

The author of the Book of Genesis says that the world was made in six days. Geology teaches that the world was gradually formed over a period of millions of years. The author of Genesis thought of the world as flat. We know that it is round. How, then can we say that the Bible is God speaking thru men?

If I tell you that I saw a marvelous sunset last night, you would not accuse me of disagreeing with science, even tho science tells us that the sun doesn't move. You know that I was using an accepted figure of speech; a popular description, not a scientific observation. There are many such things in the Bible.

For example, the of Genesis arbitrarily divided the story of creation into six days' work. Why did he do this? First of all, he wished to insist on the holiness of the seventh day then observed by the Jews as the Sabbath. He pictured God as resting on the seventh day, to give an example to his people.

He knew that God did not really rest. Just as he knew that God did not talk and take counsel with Himself, and that he did not walk in a garden in the cool of the day.

This was a homely, earthy way of speaking of God which would appeal to a simple, uneducated people. We use the same principle when we speak of "God's anger" or "wounding God" thru sin. We call it "anthropomorphism", that is "manlike-ism." Speaking of God in human terms sometimes make Him easier for us to understand. The important point to bear in mind is that the Bible does not teach these scientific errors. The makeup of the universe interested the author least of all. He wrote about the beginning of the world only to tell what God has made know—that God had created it. He was interested in religious truths, not natural history.

The person who believes the Bible can accept scientific discoveries about how long it took the world to evolve. The Bible and the science book are speaking of things entirely different.

Religion and science complement other. One does not substitute for the other. Together they give us knowledge that is complete, each in its own field.

THE ORLAND PARK HERALD
Thu, March 14, 1957 Sec. 1 Pg. 7

The man who wrote the first chapters of Genesis did not know much about the workings of natural forces. Yet he expressed a wisdom unknown to many today who have this knowledge. He voiced a truth God had revealed, which never before or after has been put so eloquently. "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth. . . ."

Southwest Fives Lose in Regionals

Bremen Drops Tough Tilt to Blue Island; Harvey Takes Eagles

Prep sectional tourneys are on in full swing thruout Illinois at this writing but none of the teams from the Southwest Suburban conference are in the running for the top honor of high school basketball—the state championship.

Lincoln-way and Rich were defeated in the regional tourney at Joliet while Sandburg, Oak Lawn and Bremen bowed out in the competition at Harvey.

Bloom of Chicago Heights, which did not look like a team that was rated fifth best in all the state as it squeezed thru the Joliet regional, meets St. Patrick's Central of Kankakee at the Blue Island sectional tonight.

Thornton of Harvey which won its own regional was pitted against Pontiac last night at Blue Island. The winner at Blue Island will play next week in the super-sectional at Hinsdale and the week after that will see the state title decided at Champaign-Urbana.

Bremen's hopes for a shot at the sectional title was high after disposing of Thornton Fractional in the second game of the regional last Wednesday night. Fractional was given a slight edge over Bremen by forecasters but the Braves, paced by Dale Hartwig, took Fractional 66 to 63. The Braves led 36 to 31 at half time but trailed 50-46 at the end of the third period. Bremen came back strong in the final quarter to tally 20 points to Fractional's 13.

The Braves met Blue Island last Thursday night, the Cardinals having disposed of Oak Lawn on Wednesday, 57-43.

It looked like the Braves could do it until the last moment but when the final horn sounded it was Blue Island 79 and Bremen 78.

Accuracy from the free throw line kept Bremen in the running. Blue Island counted 32 baskets to the Braves' 27 but Bremen tallied 24 points on 27 free throw attempts to 15 for the victors.

The Braves led 22 to 18 at the end of the first quarter and 44 to 39 at the half and 62 to 59 at the end of the third quarter. It was still a nip and tuck game thruout the last period. Blue Island went ahead 75 to 74 on a 16-foot one hand shot by Ed Kissel with 58 seconds to go and was never headed after that.

In the meantime Thornton defeated Carl Sandburg in the first game Thursday night 83 to 44. The Harvey club jumped into an early lead and went right on, piling on the coal.

Thornton led 18 to 11 at the end of the first quarter and 41 to 20 at the half. At the three quarter mark it was Harvey 63 and Sandburg 31. In the final period Harvey outscored Sandburg 20 to 13 to make the final count 83-44, Harvey.

Thornton breezed thru the finals to tap Blue Island 68 to 52.

Mokena Meteorites Finish Fourth In Conference Pony Tournament

The Mokena Meteorites ended the season last Saturday by dropping a hard fought contest to New Lenox 35 to 31 to finish in fourth place in the Manhattan lightweight conference tourney. The result was similar to last year's finish when the Meteorites captured the conference championship only to take third in the tournament. This year the Meteorites tied with New Lenox for the league title and then found themselves battling with New Lenox for third place.

The Meteorites advanced thru the first round by downing Manhattan 19 to 15. Mokena trailed until the second half and then Sheridan and Johnson pushed 13 points thru the hoop to snatch the victory.

The second round saw Channahon upset the Meteorites 16 to 14. It was a very disappointing game for Mokena as they had beaten Channahon twice in the regular season. Except for Mike Sheridan, Mokena could not find the basket. The team missed eight free throws which could have decided the game in their favor.

The scrap for third place was just that as each team was out to prove to the other that it was the conference champ. New Lenox finished on top on the after having a 14 to 8 advantage in the second quarter. Mokena rallied to score 10 points in the 26 to 25 but New Lenox held on third period to close the margin and got nine points to six for the Meteorites in the final period. Mike Sheridan again proved to be the most valuable Mokena boy in the tourney by scoring eight points. The team missed 15 free throws.

Laraway captured the title by routing Channahon in the championship game 38 to 18.

The spotlight now turns to the conference heavy weight tournament at New Lenox.

Washington News Letter

FEB. 12th and FEB. 22nd February is the natal month of Lincoln and Washington.

Lincoln is credited with being the author of the following epigrams. They sound very much like the Proverbs of Solomon which Lincoln is said to have studied and absorbed:

"You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich.

"You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong.

"You cannot life the wage-earner by pulling down the wage-payer.

"You cannot establish sound security on borrowed money.

"You cannot really help men by having the government tax them to do for them what they can and should do for themselves."

Washington in his Farewell Address gave the following advice to America and to the leaders who were to come after him—advice that is being ignored by the leaders of today:

"Against the insidious wiles of foreign influence, the jealousy of a free people ought to be constantly awake; since history and experience prove that foreign influence is one of the most baneful foes of Republican Government. . . .

"Why forego the advantages of so peculiar a situation?—Why quit our own to stand upon foreign ground?—Why, by interweaving our destiny with that of any part of Europe, entangle

m. The group will search for arrowheads and other artifacts. Each should bring shovel, small trowel, sieve, collecting boxes and small brush.

our peace and prosperity in the toils of European Ambition, Rivalship, Interest, Humour or Caprice?—

UNITY WITHOUT CONFORMITY

President Eisenhower in his Inaugural Address said, "May we know unity without conformity." What did he mean? Did he mean we can and should be a united people—100 per cent Americans—yet differ in religious beliefs, in politics, in habits, and in social customs? If so, the writer is in complete accord with the President.

But Chief Justice Warren, who gave the President the oath of office, is one man who would force all Americans to conform to HIS "liberal interpretations of our written Constitution", a man whose concept of law and the Constitution causes the Court to rewrite the Constitution to conform to the social, political, and economic convictions of the present Supreme Court Justices.

When a group of political appointees ignores or distorts the Constitution to bring about uniformity in long-established social customs by compulsion, how can the President expect unity? There can be no real unity thru compulsion.

The only unity one can have through compulsion is the unity found in an Army or the unity found in Russia.

CONGRESSIONAL SQUANDERING

Every representative in the Congress has a two-room office suite, and every Senator has an office suite of several rooms—ample space for the work to be done. Yet a new Senate Office Building is now being built, and a third House Office Building is planned and authorized.

The planned third House Office Building is to cost $64 million. The entire original cost of the Capitol Building, the present Senate Office Building, plus the two present House Office Buildings was $51 million—$13 million less than this one new building is to cost.

In addition to this unnecessary Congressional squandering, the entire front of the Capitol Building is to be subjected to face lifting and face-changing by extending it forward 60 feet at a cost of about $42 million. This means well over $100 million will be spent for unnecessary and uncalled-for changes on Capitol Hill.

IS THIS A GOOD BUY?

Government figures show that if the Federal School Aid bill passes, it will cost Illinois yearly in TAXES $49,368,000.00. Illinois will get back in AID $30,370,893.00. Is this a good buy, especially for the school districts that have voted bonds to build their own schools?

Course Is Charted

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has charted a course for businessmen—for conservatives in Congress and in the Administration, for rank-and-file taxpayers—to follow during a period of world peril.

In brief, it is that there should be unremitting pressure for keeping down government costs so that there can be a badly needed reduction of federal taxes.

This he regards as vitally important during a period of high employment and huge tax revenues. And, if there should be a business recession, he would vigorously oppose New-Fair Deal economic remedies which have failed in the past.

Mr. Humphrey's remarks on the Eisenhower budget—the largest in peacetime history—and his condemnation of the "spend yourself rich" theory aroused widespread comment in the administration and in congress.

There has been speculation as to whether he would submit his resignation—a speculation apparently having no basis in fact.

JALOPY JOE HAS a car that cost $3,600.

That was in 1947, and there have been several owners between the original and Joe.

But it's still a prestige job to him.

When, driving at legal speed, you hear the tumult of tortured machinery alongside, that's Joe going to the head of the line.

Nobody is going to show him up.—Cook County Highway Department.

New Lenox Girl Scouts Visit Kennels

STRAIGHT FROM THE SHOULDER

by Marvin M. Smith

The title of this story might read, "Where are my wandering children tonight?" The story begins this way.

The teen ager comes home from school. He or she usually has duties to perform that are given by the parents each evening after school.

Along about 5 o'clock mother and dad, who are also working, return home, and mother starts the evening meal. Dad, who has given the appointments to the teen ager, sometimes will inspect and see that the duties assigned are completed.

In a little while after mother's return, the meal is ready but in many cases it is disturbed by wrangling brought on by questioning of the teen ager by the parents.

After the evening meal is finished and the dishes washed, Junior or Sis decides to start manipulating to go out for the evening. More likely than not, they succeed. In many cases the parents forget, or don't care, to ask where their youngsters are going. If this question were asked, they would undoubtedly get a fast answer, such as, "What makes the difference," or "just going out to be with the kids."

A few minutes later, the rendezvous takes place, as was the case a few months ago. A group of teen agers supposedly had travelled to a farm on 175th pl. just this side of Central. The farm was formerly owned by Wilkins. The destruction that had taken place there over a period of time consists of broken windows in 13 rooms, plaster knocked off the walls, screen doors damaged, door casings destroyed, plumbing taken out or tampered with, a corn picker tires shot and slashed, seat covers on various farm implements slashed, windows in the barn either knocked out by rocks, rifle shot and shotgun blasts; a hay mow door partially destroyed and to top it off, a lot of nails purposely dropped in a driveway. Total damage estimated over $3,000.00.

Damage to any property such as this deserves the attention of the authorities. I am told that some of these teen agers hunt in this area the year round with out regard for law. It seems this area could almost be declared as Little Cicero of the 1920 era. A few days ago a party ventured back to this farm to make a little investigation. When he drove into the driveway, he spotted a little fellow coming out of the house. He seized the lad with the intention of bringing him back to Tinley Park. While taking the lad to his car he heard someone on the porch give an order, "Let go of my little brother, or I'll kill you." Startled, he looked up and saw standing a boy standing there with what looked like a corn knife. He loosed his hold on the young boy and the two youngsters fled across a field.

It is unfortunate that such instances should occur, but they happen every day, it seems, and very little is done about it. The red tape in law is very, very flexible.

It seems to me that the parents in many cases should be held equally responsible for the misdemeanors of their offspring. If a parent is sincere, and in a lot of cases they are, in rearing good children it seems that they would re-open the woodshed door and use it as a house of correction instead of leaving it up to the law to do their work for them. I do not think that if a neighbor heard a parent correcting his child in the wood shed there would be too many complaints about noises in the community, do you?

Museum Group to Hear Talk on Birds Tuesday

Karl E. Bartel will speak on birds of this area before the Sauk chapter of the Illinois State Museum society, Tuesday, March 19, at 8 pm, in the Tinley Park village hall.

Bartel, who lives on Collins ave., Blue Island, is known to hundreds of school children as the naturalist on duty at the Little Red School House in Palos Park forest preserve.

A member of numerous ornithological societies, Bartel is perhaps best known for his bird-banding activities. Since 1933, he has banded 35,000 birds of over 150 different species, using traps in his back yard and in undeveloped areas. Recoveries and returns of banded birds give useful information on their migratory habits and some knowledge of how long they live. This is forwarded to and correlated by the U. S. Biological Survey. Two "oldsters" of Bartel's are an eleven year old heron and a ten year old cardinal. Bartel likes to photograph his birds. Back in 1933, he took the first pictures of the great blue heron colony of Depue county, Ill. His talk will cover identification of birds in back yard and local areas by call, song or sight. The meeting is open to the public.

Cong. Mason Charges High Court With Flouting States' Rights

(Editor's note: This is the second and last installment of a recent speech by Cong. Noah Mason, 15th Illinois district, dealing with U. S. Supreme Court decisions on state's rights and rights of individuals. The first installment appeared in last week's paper.)

Mr. Speaker, commenting on the recent school fiasco at Clinton, Tenn.—a result of the court decision on school integration—David Lawrence had these pertinent things to say: "Is Tennessee still a State in the Union, or has it abdicated entirely to the Federal Government? Has it given up its exclusive right under the Constitution to maintain law and order, to insist upon trial by jury, and to punish through its own State courts all criminal cases of assault and battery and threats to the safety of an individual? The idea that a Federal injunction has 'no limits'—as stated by the county attorney of Anderson County—and that it can punish anybody for speaking or urging a course of action that a Federal judge may not like, means that the Bill of Rights—which guarantees free speech, free assembly, and trial by jury—has been torn to bits in Anderson County, Tenn. It means also that the State of Tennessee and the country of Anderson, which have the primary duty to enforce law and order have given way to a superior power—a Federal judge's arbitrary action. It is a tragic day in American history.

These are strong words, harsh words, but true words, nevertheless. And they came from the mouth of one of the best known and most respected editors and publishers in America. Mr. Speaker, the September issue of the American Bar Association Journal contains a well-written and thoroughly documented article entitled "Judicial Self-Restraint." That article was written by Ralph T. Catterall, for 25 years one of the leading attorneys of Richmond, Va., and now a member of the Virginia state corporation commission.

In that article the learned attorney warns that lack of judicial self-restraint leads to judicial despotism. The theme of the article is that in its recent segregation decisions the court has substituted for the provisions of the written constitution the economic, moral, and political convictions of the justices; and this is done under the false assumption that the so-called natural-law formula is to be considered superior to and to supersede the written constitution. Mr. Catterall summarizes his article by asserting:

"Never before have the personal predilections and moral convictions of the Justices ridden so roughshod over the written text of the Constitution as in these recent school segregation cases."

I am in complete accord with Mr. Catterall's position, and with the statement just quoted.

Mr. Speaker, there are today in Washington two schools of thought concerning the constitution and the proper way to amend it or to change it to fit present day conditions.

One school believes our constitution has become a strait-jacket that prevents Congress from doing what in its opinion should be done to improve social conditions, to take proper care of the general welfare, and to solve the industrial problems that are prevalent today. This school of thought, initiated by Franklin De'ano Roosevelt, would expand and enlarge the Federal Government's powers in the field of general welfare by reading into the language of the constitution meanings and powers that were never intended to be included—in fact, meanings and powers that were definitely excluded and very definitely left to the states.

The New Deal officials—thru the process of appointing their own kind to the supreme court as fast as vacancies occurred—have finally secured a majority on that court who now implement their own social and welfare theories by means of court decisions.

Mr. Speaker, the other school of thought in Washington contends that the constitution is the supreme law of the land; that it is, if you please, a set of bylaws adopted by the people after due deliberation and debate; and that it should be used as a guide to direct, to control, and to limit the actions of each of the three separate branches of government.

This school of thought contends that whenever the executive and the congress may decide the constitution should be amended to better meet present-day needs, it is the duty of the congress to submit an amending resolution to the people for their action, as provided for in the constitution.

This school of thought insists that the power to amend the constitution is inherent in the people, and that it cannot nor should not be exercised by either of the three branches of government.

Certainly it was never intended that the Constitution should be amended by so-called liberal interpretations or by liberal court decision. Amendment by evasion or by subterfuge has become common practice by today's supreme court. Our present justices are exercising powers they do not possess under the constitution. By doing so they exalt themselves above both the people and the constitution.

Mr. Speaker, as members of congress we dare not sit idly by while drastic changes are being made in our constitution by subterfuge. If we do so we will be violating our oath of office. Quoting a great Democrat, Andrew Jackson:

"Our Federal Constitution; it must be preserved."

This congress faces trying and testing days. We would do well, therefore, to recall the words Thomas Paine uttered during the first great national crisis 175 years ago, the crisis that made necessary and historic Constitutional Convention that produced the supreme law of the land. Here are Paine's memorable words:

"These are the times that try men's souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will in this crisis shrink from his duty; but he that stands it now deserves the love and praise of men and women."

I pray God a majority of the members of this house—on both sides of the aisle—will not be summer soldiers or sunshine patriots when faced with today's issue: The preservation of our constitution and the protection of states' rights.

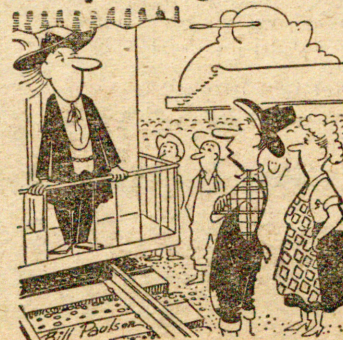

Orland Park Police Recover Stolen Car

A car stolen at Kokomo, Ind., was recovered by Orland Park police. It was found abandoned at 151st st., and U. S. 45 by Patrolman Eugene Yunker.

A German bayonet, Philippine bolo and a comparatively small hunting knife had been left in the car. The two teenagers who stole the car in Kokomo were picked up over the week end in Texas, Orland police were informed.

A transient, who gave the name of Arthur Anderson, 42, but was uncertain as to his address, was picked up by Orland police and turned over to state police of District 4, for a check.

Tornado Season Here Again-Weather Bureau Warns Public

(CNS)—This is the tornado season, says the weather bureau. The most likely time of occurrence for Illinois tornados is during the afternoon and evening hours with 52 per cent having their beginning between 3 and 7 p.m. Destructive tornados are more likely to occur, say weathermen, in the central and southern part of the state than in the north portion.

Tornados are well known for their narrow path of destruction. The weather bureau says it is not possible to predict the exact spot where a tornado will develop, just as it is impossible to determine where a bolt of lightning will strike.

It is possible, however, to locate areas about 20,000 square miles in size where there is a reasonable possibility that tornados will occur. But there may be times tornados will occur outside the predicted areas or when no tornado forecasts have been issued.

Tornado forecasts and tornado warnings are not the same thing. A forecast is issued to alert the public and volunteer storm reporters to watch for tornados if the sky becomes threatening.

The weather bureau emphasized that people should not run for cover immediately after hearing a tornado forecast. They of safety can be reached quickly should take any necessary preliminary action so that a place if a warning is issued that a ly if a tornado is sighted or tornado is approaching.

Tornado warnings—as distinguished from tornado forecasts—are issued when a tornado has been sighted.

The weather bureau says there is always the possibility that tornado reports from the bureau's networks may not be received in time to warn communities in the immediate path of a tornado. In some cases telephone lines may be blown down so that reports cannot be received. In other cases a tornado may develop on the edge of a town and become an immediate threat to the people there.

For these reasons the weather bureau advises towns to develop their own reporting and warning systems. Suggestions for establishing community tornado warning network may be secured by writing the nearest weather bureau office of the U. S. Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C.

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of articles prepared by local clergy designed to produce greater church attendance between now and Easter.

I am the best friend you ever had.
I am hung about with sweet memories—memories of friends—memories of mothers—memories of boys and girls—memories of angels.

I am blessed with loving thoughts, happy hands and hearts.
I safeguard man through all his paths.
I lift up the fallen, I strengthen the weak, I help the distressed.

I show mercy, bestow kindness, and offer a friendly hand.
Sometime—some day in the near or far future—you will yearn for the touch of my friendly hand.
I am your best friend.
I am calling YOU now.
I am your church.

"The Answer is God". Come to your church regularly.

Thought for the Day

Him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out. (John 6:37.)
When I was a child, a photographer took my picture. He had put out a captivating advertisement, "Come as you please." So my mother took me just as I was. I still have the photograph. There were no frills or fancy garments, no dressing up for that photograph. It was I, just as I was.

There is something to be said for looking one's best in a photograph. People used to say the camera could not lie; but the camera can be used to prove almost anything.

How we appear to other people depends on the people. There is a cheap view of human life that never sees much in us. There is also the danger of a too optimistic view of human nature. But Jesus knew what was in man—the best as well as the worst.

"Come as you please," said the photographer. "Come unto me," said Jesus. That means, come—just as we are.

PRAYER

Unworthy though we are, O God, we come to Thee; for we have faith that just as we are, Thou wilt receive. Cleanse us of sin, fill us with the Holy Spirit, and use us for Thy glory; thru Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
God will receive me just as I am.

Motor Club Fights Diversion Of Gas Tax to Benefit CTA

Illinois members of the Chicago Motor club have been asked to write or wire their state senators and representatives to oppose any tax to subsidize the Chicago Transit Authority, or any diversion of highway funds for any purpose.

The request is made in the March issue of Motor News, the club's newspaper, which is largely devoted to the gas controversy. In a message to members, Charles M. Hayes, club president, says:

"Our view is that taxation on anyone or anything for the purpose of subsidizing any form of transportation is wrong.

"Any form of taxation to subsidize the CTA would be a dangerous precedent. Once a tax is imposed on the motorist for this purpose, it could become a never-ending proposition."

Hayes says that while the 'subsidy proposal' is still in the discussion stage, CTA officials have suggested several schemes to the governor and other officials, one of which is a state-wide increase of a 5-cent-a-gallon gas tax to 6 cents. He adds:

"The CTA also proposes to change both state and federal laws to permit the use of highway funds to finance mass transportation."

Motor News points out that 'similar schemes to divert motor fuel tax funds have been attempted in other states.' But it says that 'when given an opportunity to express themselves on gas tax diversion, the record shows that almost invariably the people have voted overwhelmingly in favor of constitutional safeguards'.

The Motor club asserts that from their inception, highway user taxes have been generally recognized as special use or benefit taxes. It quotes the author of the first gasoline tax law—passed in Oregon in 1919—as having said:

"This tax ought to be considered as belonging to the road program and not diverted to other purposes. We might as well tax sugar to build roads as to tax gasoline to run the government."

Motor News says the same principle is made 'crystal clear' in the Hayden-Cartwright amendment of 1934 to the basic federal highway aid law, and that if highway-user taxes are diverted, planning for Illinois' proposed highway program could be carried out on only a 'piecemeal basis.'

"This," says the motor club, "could only result in impaired efficiency and waste of the taxpayers' money," concludes the club:

"Federal law provides that up to one-third of federal aid may be withheld if the state's highway user taxes are not spent for highway purposes. That means, of course, that diversion of gasoline taxes to subsidize the CTA could jeopardize the entire Illinois highway program."

NAM Calls for Strict Pruning Of U.S. Budget

The National Association of Manufacturers has called for stringent pruning of proposed federal spending for fiscal 1958, strongly urging a $8.2 billion cut in the Eisenhower's $71.8 billion budget.

Proposed federal spending of $73.5 billion (including the federal highway program) carries both an 'inflation potential and jeopardy to continued economic growth' of the nation, the NAM said.

Specific recommendations included reductions of $4.1 billion in civilian expenditures, $2.2 billion in foreign aid, and $1.9 billion in military spending.

In addition it urged the speed-up of the economies in federal spending proposed by the second Hoover Commission, a decrease in the "unwholesome concentration of power in the central government" and a "diffusion of power, resources and responsibilities among the several levels of government."

The NAM said that Congress should take legislative and organizational action to effect greater control of federal spending. It suggested the following steps:

(1)—Restrict appropriations to demonstrated real needs and rescind existing appropriations backlogs to the maximum extent;

(2)—Restrict open-end commitments whereby federal expenditures are determined by non-federal agencies;

(3)—Review, modify, and repeal, as necessary, substantive legislation involving long-term fiscal commitments.

In the field of domestic spending, the NAM said that $4.1 billion could be cut from the budget by judicious pruning, such as holding certain programs down to 1956 or 1957 spending levels, avoiding new programs, and by completely eliminating certain programs which have

March 20 May be Only a Paper Spring But Even That is Nice

(CNS) Astronomers say spring will be earlier than usual this year.

In the Chicago area, the exact time is 3:17 p.m. March 20. At that time the sun will be over the equator as it moves from the southern to the northern hemisphere.

The amount of daylight has been increasing since the last part of December in the northern hemisphere and will continue increasing until June 21.

As the days grow longer this month, we can expect warmer weather, says the weather bureau—but then it hedges, adding "on the average."

The normal daily mean temperature, 32 degrees, on March 1, will rise to 43 degrees on March 31. The normal daily minimum temperature of 32 degrees will be passed on March 27.

However, the weathermen point out, this is no indication that the last day of killing frost will have passed. With the usual alternating movement of cold and warm air over the midwest, the normal temperature seldom occurs, but is usually above or below normal.

Actually, the average last date of killing frost in the Chicago area is on April 16. The latest date of killing frost on record in Chicago was May 25 in 1882. In the suburbs there is usually danger of killing frost up to May 10.

Many Chicagoans say their spring bulbs breaking thru the ground last month, a February with an average temperature much above normal according to the weather bureau. Since most of the daily temperatures were above normal the bulbs were just in tune with the weather, the bureau adds. But it says these early plants were in need of protection this month when the mercury dropped well below the 20 degree mark.

been set up in the 1958 proposals.

For example, the NAM said that $1.7 billion could be trimmed by holding a number of programs to 1956 or 1957 levels and by avoiding new projects; that $1.4 billion could be saved by eliminating certain programs; that $411 million could be saved by a 20% cut in grants-in-aid, as a first step in returning functions to the states.

If it is kept as busy circulating as it should, the average $1 bill will wear out in about 9 months.

Retirement Isn't

"Had a letter from Aunt Margaret today," Molly began, as she and the Mr. sat down to supper. "Uncle Bob's retiring next month."

George helped himself to the meat loaf. "Good for him. I'm glad he's got something to retire to—as well as from."

"I don't understand . . ."

"Simple. He's retiring from the job he's had the last 40 years—to a hobby that he's had for the last 10."

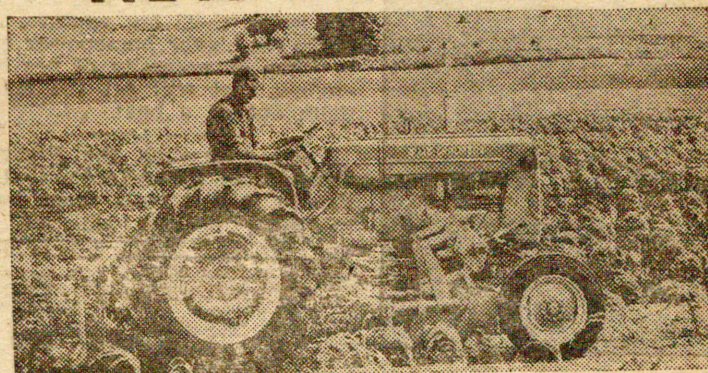

"O, you mean that basement workshop of his?"

"Exactly. Bob's always had a hankering to be a cabinet maker. Fine wood, his own designs, and all that. Now he can be one to his heart's content, and have a real new career."

"It will keep him busy, too. Aunt Margaret hated to think he'd just be sitting around . . ."

"So did Bob. That's the reason he began planning all this 10 years ago, so that he would be retiring to a new activity at the same time he retired from an old one. A very wise fellow!"

Low-Line, High-Crop Clearance Are Combined in NEW TRACTOR

A new low-line, high-crop clearance 3-plow tractor weighing approximately 4,100 pounds, said to be a new concept in tractors, is announced by Allis-Chalmers according to Erwin Yunker, Allis-Chalmers dealer who attended a sales meeting at the company's Rockford branch where this new tractor was introduced.

Erwin Yunker says this new Model D-14 gives farmers the conveniences of a low profile tractor, easy to get on and off, but with as much cultivating clearance as a high-wheel row-crop tractor.

Some of the other exclusive features in this tractor are a new power control system that permits shifting on-the-go to high or low range, providing 8 forward speeds; completely enclosed hydraulic system; unusual comfort, security, and vision with the new easy-ride seat and wide roomy platform; and new POWER-CRATER engine rated at 35 hp plus (manufacturer's rating).

A new roll-shift front axle which also changes the spacing of front wheels for row widths is now available for the first time in a tractor. This combines with power-shift rear wheels introduced by Allis-Chalmers in 1948 so that all wheel spacings can be changed without blocks or jacks.

Among other Allis-Chalmers "firsts" included in the new tractor are two-clutch power control; automatic TRACTION BOOSTER; and SNAP-COUPLER hitch.

A brand-new line of "ROLL-IN" quick-hitch cultivators that can be rolled into position and quickly put on or removed without wrenches has been designed for the D-14. These are a part of the complete line of implements available for this tractor.

"Aunt Theresa" At Park View Church Sunday

Miss Theresa Worman, director of children's programs, radio station WMBI in Chicago, will be speaking at the Park View Baptist Church of Mokena on March 17, at 7 p.m.

Known to thousands of boys and girls as 'Aunt Theresa', Miss Worman appears on several children's programs daily in addition to supervising others. Her most popular program is KYB (Know Your Bible) club heard over the Moody Bible Institute's radio station, WMBI, every Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. KYB club was started in 1928 and Aunt Theresa has directed the program since 1935. Also included in her radio schedule are 'Story Time,' 'Bible Story Hour,' and 'Prayer Circle.'

Author of more than a dozen books for children, Miss Worman finds time in a busy schedule also to write magazine articles, address women's gatherings and other church groups, and conduct KYB club rallies in scores of Chicago area churches every year.

Miss Worman recently returned from an exciting round-the-world trip which took her to some 15 countries. She traveled by everything from a plane to dog team. She will show these pictures at the meeting.

Miss Worman is a graduate of Moody Bible Institute. There also will be special music by Sharon and Becky of the KYB club of WMBI who are marimba players. The Junior Choir of the Park View Baptist church will sing. Refreshments will be served after the program.

Family Boats Are in Demand Says Dealer

What does today's outboarder want?

Just about any marine dealer will tell you comfort—the kind you get in big boats powered by big motors, says Bob Johnson, owner of Illinois Lawn

Equipment, Inc., which is the scene of the all-family boat display March 15-17.

As proof Bob points to the sales records of Johnson Motors, the country's biggest outboard manufacturer, which sold 62.5 more big horsepower engines in 1956 than it did in 1955. Johnson, whose products he handles, expects to produce 49 per cent more big engines in 1957 over 1956, Johnson says.

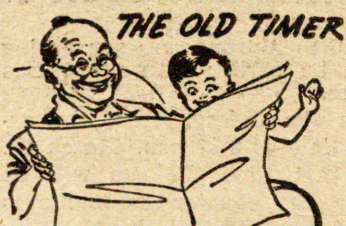

The reason for the boom in big boats and big horsepower engines is family boating, he added. Families need and want bigger boats that have more accommodations, according to Johnson so bigger engines are needed to get good performance.

Illinois Lawn points also to the popularity of the outboard cruiser; the big open utilities which have come to be known as camp boats; and more lately the houseboat with its abundance of living space both in the cabin and on the decks.

Family boating also explains the current year-to-year jump in horsepower most manufacturers give their big engines. As boats get bigger horsepower has to jump of necessity of provide engines that will get the maximum out of a boat.

One could and did—the Rock Island Lines. This road had the necessary right-of-way clearances over its entire line!

This is just one instance of Rock Island's ability to perform a transportation service that's outstanding. Passenger service, too, is keyed to modern demands. The ROCKET fleet of passenger trains, for example . . . and the JET ROCKET between Chicago and Peoria . . . and the GOLDEN STATE between Chicago and Los Angeles.

Transportation—smooth, trouble-free rail transportation—that's Rock Island's business. It's a big job and we've been working at it for 105 years!

FARM NEWS

For Cook County
by
W. F.
Whiteside

assistant farm adviser

The South Cook Soil Conservation board elected officers at their last meeting. William Stelter, Tinley Park, was re-elected chairman; Raymond Knieriem, Mokena; Melvin Rohling, Matteson; and Simon DeBoer, Chicago Heights, were elected to the posts of vice-chairman, Secretary and Treasurer respectively.

Bill Stelter was elected chairman of Conservation Council No. 3. The Council is composed of several districts south and west of the South Cook district. It is an honor to have the council chairman reside in this district. I am sure Bill will give excellent guidance to council activities.

I talked with Carl Bormet, Tinley Park, chairman of the county ASC committee yesterday. He tells me that more farmers should take advantage of the Agricultural Conservation Program. The program provides a cost share arrangement whereby farmers can get financial assistance to aid in establishing grass waterways, tile outlets, conservation structures, applying lime and phosphate and several other practices. Payments can go as high as 50 per cent of the total cost.

The pocketbook is quite large and the technical services of Charles Fletcher, Soil Conservationist, are available on short notice.

Farmers can participate in the ACP program without complying with their corn acreage allotment.

The size of the appropriation may be reduced if farm people do not take advantage of this opportunity.

Drop in at the ASC office in the Farm Bureau building and get further details.

You don't need a green thumb to grow trees and shrubs successfully. Just spend a little effort in careful planting and post planting care.

When you plant, get healthy trees or shrubs from a local nurseryman to assure they are adapted to the climate of this area.

Plant on a calm, cloudy, humid day when ground is dry enough to work. This type of day reduces moisture losses by transpiration.

Water frequently and enjoy your planting.

I have received a new circular prepared by the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. It deals with pest control in fruit planting. Complete spray schedules as well as insecticides—fungicides compatibility charts can be found in this circular. It is available free at my office.

Poultrymen—cull heavily during March. Only birds in full production are paying their way. Other birds are free loaders.

Radox, the new pre-emergence chemical that looks most promising for the control of giant foxtail, has been cleared by the Food and Drug Administration for sale to farmers in 1957.

Late February or March is a good time to top-dress winter wheat and grass pastures with nitrogen.

Your grass waterways will get off to a good start this spring if you treat them with manure or balanced fertilizer. Avoid livestock damage from over-grazing or from cutting up the sod during freezing and thawing periods.

The Hose Line

Column conducted by the Tinley Park Fire Department.

Running short on questions. Let's have some more.

Q. In last week's column you stated that you call in outside help if needed. Who is this outside help?

A. Mr. D. We belong to the Community Fireman's Association. This is made up of 65 department members. We can call in as many of these departments as is needed.

Q. How does one go about taking a group of children on a tour of the fire station?

A. Mrs. L. Contact the fire chief, Ed Moss, who will make all necessary arrangements for your group to see all equipment with a running commentary. (KE 2-4594).

Q. I have watched you men go on many calls and most of the time cars will not give your trucks the right of way. Why? Can't something be done about this?

A. Mrs. E. This has been a continual hazard to firemen over the years. As to why people will not pull over to let a fire truck past, we do not know the answer. There are two ways of handling this. One is to keep talking and writing about the hazard this causes to the car driver as well as to the firemen, and the other way is to have the police ticket these car drivers for failure to yield the right of way to fire equipment. We firemen feel that most of the people try to cooperate with us 100 per cent.

Q. A. Mrs. M. Your question was answered in last week's paper.

Q. Have I been hearing two sirens lately?

A. Mr. H. Your ears are not deceiving you. We now have a second siren being blown and it is mounted on top of English Bros. garage.

Q. I have heard that the firemen receive no compensation for going on calls, also that you do not charge for calls. Is this correct?

A. Mr. N. You have heard right, none of our men are paid for going on emergency or fire calls. When a man joins our department he knows before that he is on twenty four hour call without compensation. We do not charge for calls, but we do receive donations from one out of every eight calls, average.

Did you know that it is illegal to follow a fire truck within 500 feet.

Opportunity Opens Door to Home Brewers

(CNS)—Put in your bid now if you're in the market for a hot wort tank or perhaps a hop jack, or maybe a rice cooker, wet grain hopper, brew kettles and mash tanks.

The Chicago Land Clearance Commission has them up for sale together with miles of pipe and other brewing accessories and will open sealed bids on them at a public meeting at 10 a.m. today, March 14, in its office at 69 W. Washington street, Chicago.

The cookers, kettles and tanks are in the brew house once used by the Kelley Brewing Co., 516 E. 28th street, Chicago. This is a three block area which the commission has acquired for redevelopment — part for 1500 apartments and the rest for Michael Reese Hospital expansion.

For the uninitiated, a hop jack is defined as a strainer of hops after clearing the kettle where the wort is hot wort tank is the container where beer is cooked before yeast is added for fermentation.

According to a recent issue of Standard & Poor investment service, guided missiles are gradually changing the armament plans of this country. The missile program is the only part of the defense effort headed for a big expansion over the next decade.

Guided missiles are self-propelled weapons with various types of war heads and directed to targets with electronic devices.

The governments total expenditure on missiles rose from $169 million in 1952, to $1,506 million in 1956 fiscal year ending June 30, 1957, and $2,039 million in the expected figure in the next fiscal year beginning July 1, 1957. The Air Force estimates that it will use 20.3 per cent of its aircraft procurement budget for the current year, on guided missiles and expects this figure to be about 35% in the 1958 fiscal year.

Guided missiles are very complex and their development time-consuming. For the next several years, manned aircraft will form the bulk of the strategic air power. Certain portions of the aircraft procurement program will shortly reflect the change over to guided missiles. Interceptors among the first.

Most aircraft manufacturers are involved in the guided missile, but the bulk of the control devices and power plants are manufactured by other than aircraft manufacturing firms. Electronic controls systems and power plants are the most expensive part of the guided missile.

Some of the less well known electronic component manufacturers such as Amphenol Electronics will derive considerable advantage from the missile program. Some of the better known firms will benefit—as Chance Vought, Boeing, Douglas, General Dynamics, Glen L. Martin, Northrop, Thompson Products, and United Aircraft. General Dynamics is receiving considerable favorable attention due to its diversification of activity and its aggressive management. Raytheon is another firm expected to benefit considerably in the guided missile program. These are only a few of the firms whose earnings will be favorably influenced by the guided missile activity.

The cost of living, after holding steady for a time, started to rise again in 1956. Valuing the dollar at 100 in 1939, the present dollar is worth a little more than 50 cents. The upward trend in living costs continues, but is expected that this rise will be more gradual without the sudden spurts of the last few years. Business commentators express the belief that price inflation is not going to go much further without affecting volume of business and that new wage increases cannot be passed along easily in form of price increases.

The U. S. News and World Report in a late issue, carries a series of charts and comments on current business prospects. Their chart on stock prices since 1909 shows a constantly rising trend. The trend, of course, shows periods of decline along the way. The high point on this chart was reached in July, 1956 and has edged off somewhat since that time.

As is normal, however, there are numerous instances of certain issues going against the general trend.

March 7, the Cub Scouts of Palos Highlands held their pack meeting, it being Father Son game night. Mr. Niebrugge, father of Bruce was chosen to represent Den 3. He, along with a father from each den took a chair in the front of the room facing the remaining parents, each father was surrounded by members of his den and a contest began to see which of the dens could paint the best Indian face. It was a close contest and each of the five fathers looked like honest to goodness Indians, however the father who won the plaque for the most authentic painted Indian face was Mr. "Pete" Niebrugge of Den 3.

Mrs. Niebrugge, Anderson and McBride volunteered to be on the entertainment committee for the entire Pack and to plan interesting places for them to visit. One of the fathers from den 5 has made arrangements at the plant where he works to take the whole Pack through the plant. Its a machine shop and would prove interesting to many of the boys. One parent has been asked to accompany each group of four. The tour will be made on the first day all the boys are off from school.

It was suggested a bake sale be held to raise money to hire a bus to take the boys to the next place they visit, perhaps a ball game, or a rodeo, whichever can be arranged first. The group on entertainment also is expected to provide entertainment at the Pack meetings.

A meeting was held Monday night in the home of Mrs. Yo-mans in Palos Heights so all who had any ideas could attend and voice their suggestions.

Any ideas would be appreciated.

WHAT IS A TRUST?

Lawyers and bankers seen prone these days to tell us how useful "trust" can be in disposing of property, without ever explaining just what a trust is. To many of us, the word "trust" connotes something undesirable, probably as a result of common terms such as "anti-trust laws" or "trust busting", which apply to monopolies. However, the type of trust referred to here is one of most effective devices for protecting widows and orphans.

An example best illustrates the nature of a trust. Suppose Tom owned a farm, and wants to leave it to his wife and children after his death, but he realizes that his wife is unacquainted with farm management and that it will be many years before the children are old enough to take over. Tom can provide in his will that the farm shall be placed in a trust. Then, when Tom dies, title passes to a person, called the "trustee", who Tom has designated to manage the farm until the children are capable of taking over. The trustee is obligated to operate the farm and to pay the income to Tom's wife and children, the "beneficiaries" of the trust. This arrangement continues until the trust is terminated in accordance with directions in the will, and the children take title to the farm and hold it free and clear of the trust.

This same sort of trust arrangement can be used with any type of property, such as stocks, money, or a business. Normally property is placed into a trust only if it produces income. For example, it would be impractical to put your car or your stamp collection into a trust.

Duties of the Trustees

The trustee can be an individual or a corporation. In Illinois, a corporation cannot act as trustee unless it first qualifies to act in that capacity. The trustee is not free to do as he pleases with the trust property. He is under an obligation to manage and invest it prudently, so that it produces the highest income consistent with safety. He is obligated to pay income to the beneficiaries or to accumulate it for their benefit, as directed in the trust, and to make a proper distribution of assets when the trust is terminated.

Pay for the Trustee

Naturally, the trustee is entitled to receive compensation for his work. An individual whom you name as trustee may not choose to charge you for anything other than his expenses, but he may die or move away, or be unwilling to undertake the responsibility. For these reasons the use of trust companies as trustee has grown popular. However, the trust arrangement may not be practical for some small properties if a corporate trustee is to be used, because the charges may be out of proportion to the value of the trust property.

Tax Savings Thru Trusts

Trusts need not be connected to a will. They may be set up to begin during the lifetime of the person creating the trust, and may be subject to revocation by him during his life, or irrevocable. Also, the proceeds of insurance policies may be placed in trust. There are estate tax and income tax advantages to be gained by careful use of the trust device. These advantages are most important in connection with substantial estates, and require the consideration of competent counsel for appropriate use.

Say Car Colors Are Reflection Of Personality

Why do you buy the things you do? That's a question psychologists are exploring today, seeking the reasons behind our buying habits.

A few years back, they point out, the average American preferred a solid black car two-tone over all other colors.

But today's free-and-easy times have brought changes, and one of them, reported recently by one of the nation's leading auto manufacturers, is the emergence of white as the most popular single-tone car on the road.

According to figures released by Dodge, white now holds the lead over black.

Psychologists account for the change by saying that the average American wants his personal possessions to reflect his personality, pointing to the overwhelming demand for deluxe two-tone combinations.

At present, metallic gold and white lead all other color combinations at Dodge, with 12 per cent of total output, while 10 per cent of Dodge buyers prefer a white and flame-red design.

Twenty four herds averaged over 400 lbs. fat, and were given certificates of recognition. Of the cows on test 363 were grade cows and 764 were purebreds.

Taxpayers Group Urges Retention Of Tax Limits

"Next year's property tax bills on Illinois homes will skyrocket if present tax rate limitation laws are repealed by the 70th general assembly," warned the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois today. These laws, enacted in 1951, set up the machinery by which the maximum permissible tax rate limit for funds of local governments were fixed by local action instead of by state law as in the past. Thus, a recurring headache at every session of the general assembly since the enactment of the 100% assessment laws in 1945 had been cured.

Changes in rate limits have been possible since 1951 by means of referenda. This is as it should be. It is good for a local government to have to prove its case to the taxpayer when it desires more money to spend. Such a system maintains balance between local government and taxpayers.

Now that "balance" is being threatened. A bill is being readied for the general assembly to repeal the tax rate limitation laws. The result of such a bill would lift the lid from the taxpayer's protection. It is a matter of simple arithmetic.

Using the county general fund for example, a few cases give the result. The general fund limit of DuPage county would increase from 4.6c per $100 of valuation to 12 1/2c per $100 of valuation, an increase of 172%; Grundy, from 6.8c to 12 1/2c, an increase of 84%; LaSalle, from 7 1/2c to 12 1/2c, an increase of 67%; Macon, from 6 1/2c to 12 1/2c, an increase of 92%; Sangamon, from 7 1/2c to 12 1/2c an increase of 67%; and Saline, from 6.3c to 12 1/2c, an increase of 98%.

In a very few counties, those whose ratios of local assessments to full value were above 50% previous to the 100% assessment laws, the opposite would be true. For instance, the Calhoun county general fund would decrease from 14 1/2c to 12 1/2c, a decrease of 14%; Pope county general fund would fall from 13.4c to 12 1/2c, a decrease of 7%.

The Taxpayers' Federation will work hard and long to prevent the repeal of the tax rate limitation laws. Increases can be voted under the laws, "Consent of the taxed" is just as important in the 20th century as it was in Boston tea party days.

How come the new Ford rides so smooth and solid?

It's the new inner Ford that gives you a big-car ride at low Ford prices

Folks just naturally love Ford's lower, sleeker silhouette. And they love Ford's new Thunderbird V-8's and Mileage Maker Six. But the thing that's really got 'em buzzing is Ford's new ride. In the new kind of Ford, vital riding features team up to give you the smoothest going in the whole ride world. For example:

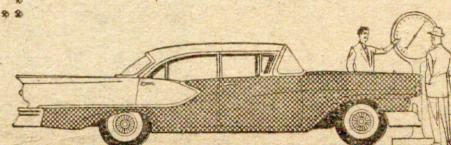

New automatic variable-rate rear springs

Going from a highway to a byway in a Ford, is like going from satin to silk. New design allows Ford's rear springs to "soften" or "stiffen" depending on road conditions. You get a smooth ride all the way!

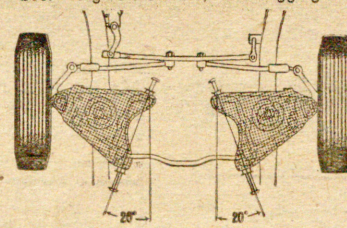

More comfortable seating

There's no sag when you sit in a Ford... even on long trips. Comfort-contoured seats, rigidly anchored, have advanced springing for greater comfort and longer life.

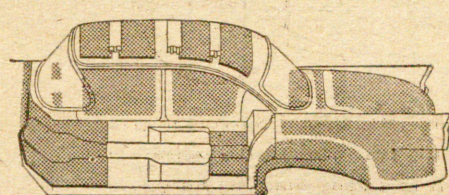

More weight and length

Head for the roughest road in the new kind of Ford. Notice how the biggest bumps lose their "thump"! One reason is that this biggest, longest, heaviest Ford has the extra "beef" to give a smooth, road-hugging ride.

New swept-back Ball-Joint front suspension

Ford's new, stronger front suspension is designed to soak up the shock of rough roads. The new swept-back design lets wheels "roll" with the bump and absorb it going away... for far smoother, steadier sailing.

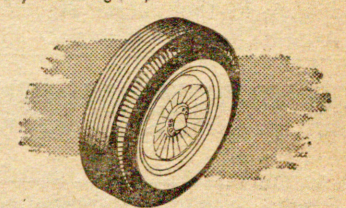

More body insulation

Ford has more body insulation—protection against weather, dust, and noise—than any car in the low-price field. You ride through city traffic in library-like quiet.

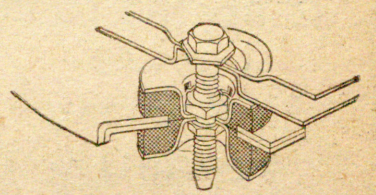

Better balance

One of Ford's nicest back-road habits is to make believe the rough spots aren't there. Proper weight distribution and precise balancing let Ford iron out bumps far better than many of the higher-priced cars.

New lower-pressure tires

Even Ford's tires are new for a better ride! Although they require less air pressure, they hold about 17% more air for cushioning the car. This means a softer ride—without sacrifice of Ford's good handling characteristics.

No metal-to-metal chassis and body contact

Only Ford in its field uses 20 Cushion Quiet rubber body mounts... more than any other low-priced car. It all adds up to a smoother, quieter riding car.

4-H Vows to Slay Highway Dragon

More than two million 4-H members are waging an all-out attack on the fire breathing dragon of traffic fatalities which menaces the safety and happiness of American motorists.

Led by the eight national winners of General Motors scholarships for outstanding 4-H safety activities, the 35th National 4-H Congress has pledged to "Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents."

The national winners and 34 other state winners received all-expense trips to the 4-H Congress in Chicago from General Motors, awards donor for the program for the 12th consecutive year.

"Traffic accidents take nearly 42,000 lives each year—one every thirteen minutes," the national winners told newsmen.

Young People Most Deeply Affected

Young people should be the most concerned about cutting this toll because it is our futures that are the most deeply affected.

Increased driver training, more courtesy on the highway and stricter observance of traffic laws were the safety experts' suggestions for top weapons in the fight against accidents.

Typical of the group was Richard Mitchell of Denver, Colo. who is president of the Colorado Teenage Traffic Safety Association. He has staged a number of Teenage "Road-e-os" to test driving skill.

Safety Season Always Open

"If a motorist is alert, skillful and consistently careful, he has a good chance of RETURNING from his destination instead of just ARRIVING there," he said.

Other national winners included: Earl Lee Norton, Attala, Ala.; Anita Mae Wenger, Powhattan, Kansas; Richard Parsons, Parsonsburg, Md.; Clyde Templeton, Olin, N.C.; Ella Lou Hembree, Braman, Okla.; LoRetta Hales, Spanish Fork, Utah; and Marjorie Rauwerdink, Sheboygan Falls, Wis.

Here is the slogan all the GM award winners suggest to everyone alike: THE SEASON FOR SAFETY IS ALWAYS OPEN!

Clergymen Who Want Social Security Must File Waivers

Clergymen who want social security protection, but who have not filed waivers of their social security tax exemption, should file the waivers by April 15, 1957, it was announced today by District Director H. Alan Long of the Internal Revenue Service and by Harold White-side, manager of the Social Security Administration's district office at Joliet, Ill.

By filing waivers last year many ministers, members of religious orders, and Christian Science practitioners elected to have their earnings in 1955 and subsequent years count toward old-age, survivors, and disability insurance. Those waivers remain in effect and need not be renewed.

Other clergymen who have not yet elected to be covered must file waivers by April 15 if they wish to have their earnings in 1956 and subsequent years count toward social security. The election is made by filing Form 2031 with the District Director of Internal Revenue. Form 2031 may be obtained from the District Director or from any Social Security Administration office.

After April 15, a clergyman who has not filed a waiver is barred by law from electing social security coverage if in each of the years 1955 and 1956 he received $400 or more net earnings from self-employment, including any salary, fees, or honoraria as a minister, member of a religious order, or Christian Science practitioner.

A clergyman who elects social security coverage pays his tax as a self-employed person. His church is not liable for the tax. The tax rate for 1956 is three percent of self-employment income up to $4,200.

I.G.A. Officials Pick Motto's Store As Best in Chicagoland

Joseph Motto, operator of the IGA Foodliner at 14419 S. Cicero Ave., Midlothian, has carried off top honors in the IGA setup in Chicagoland.

His store rates as the best Foodliner in the Chicagoland area and as a concrete evidence of the fact Mr. Motto was presented with a fine wrist watch at a recent banquet given by officials of the corporation at the Palmer House in Chicago.

They said the Motto store was selected for general excellency in display, sales and service.

THE giant Cross on Mount Royal is a familiar Montreal landmark known to every American who visits Canada's great city. One hundred feet in height, the Cross commemorates the occasion, in 1643, when Maisonneuve, the founder of Ville-Marie, climbed the mountain carrying a huge wooden cross and planted it there, "close to the sky."

Attend Business Conference

Ten senior girls from Carl Sandburg high school will attend the 12th annual business students' conference today, March 14, at Thorne hall, Chicago campus, Northwestern university. The conference is sponsored by the Chicago Area Business Teachers Association as a special service to business students in the area.

The keynote address this year will be delivered by John R. Crowley, a department head of the Hot Point Co. His speech will be followed by a shorthand speed demonstration by students of the Gregg court reporting classes at Northwestern. The morning activities also include six group sessions devoted to topics of interest and value to the student about to enter the business world and a style show featuring fashions suitable for business wear.

After lunch the girls will be guests of the Office Management Association of Chicago at the business machine show at the Conrad Hilton hotel, where they will view the newest products in the office equipment field.

Mrs. R. L. Bimm, faculty sponsor, has chosen the following girls to attend: Donna Robb, Charlene Sippel, Irene Schuldt, Carolyn Hoeflein, Shirley Meyer, Audrey Woodman, Carol Bormet, Arlene Fabian, Nanci Matthews and Carol Husch. G. W.

Third in District Speech Contest

Saturday, March 1, the speech contestants from Lincoln-Way returned from the District Speech Contest at Morris with third place for Lincoln-Way, having competed against thirteen schools for honors.

Beverly Jones received a first in extempore verse reading which entitles her to move to the sectional. Bill Noble in original monologue and the one-act play, "The Case of the Crushed Petunias," received seconds. Thirds were awarded to Jeanne Schiek in oratorical declamation and Ron Knakmuhs in extempore speaking.

Science Open House

Everyone is invited to attend the third annual Science Open House, held at Lincoln-Way high school. The open house will take place on the evening of March 15, from 8 to 10 pm. The pen house is sponsored by the Phy-Chem Association, the Knights of Science, and the Biology club. The students enrolled in these clubs will display more than one hundred and fifty projects. The club advisors are Mr. Hardy, Miss Reiter, and Mr. Abraham.

The climax of the evening will be the presentation of the awards by the judges. This will take place at 10:00 pm. Some of the judges are Mr. Hecht, Mr. Janota, Mr. Collins, Mr. Lehman, Mr. Dahowski and Mr. Sender.

Make Camping Plans

Miss Barbara Sprayberry has tentatively set the dates of April 12 for juniors, April 26 for sophomores, May 3 for seniors, and May 10 for freshmen as camping outings.

The objectives for the camping trips this year are to acquire an appreciation of the beauty of the out of doors; to gain knowledge to use this beauty for further education in such areas as conservation; to obtain basic camping knowledge for future leisure time activities where little expense is involved; to have the social experience of living in a new environment with one's own age group; to receive experience of planning, conducting and evaluating a detailed project such as an overnight camping trip; to learn to adapt to an entirely new way of living where many of the luxuries of ordinary life are neither needed nor desired; to realize that dependence upon one another is necessary in order that a complex project such as a camping trip may operate smoothly.

Future Nurses

The freshman sophomore Future Nurses club and Miss Mary Don Butzback, their sponsor, donated their services to the Will County Tuberculosis Association on Saturday, March 2. The girls, Evelyn Rowswell, Mary Ellen McGovney, Caryle Struthers, Paulette Crouse, Shirley Schroeder and Becky Gustafson, did "keying," which was determining the amount of money which had been donated to the TB fund at Christmasting from the various sources.

G.A.A.

Twenty girls will represent Lincoln-Way in the annual basket shooting contest sponsored by the state GAA organization. Those entered from Lincoln-Way are Shirley Beam, Pat Boleman, Sharon Cappel, Raydene Cook, Carole Egness, Lavonne Erdmann, Penny Fiegen, Carole Gilmore, Coral Heptig, Harriet Hoogstra, Geriann Hull, Vivian Jacobson, Sharyn Jedlick, Gailyn McCoy, Cindy Morrison, Barbara Niemann, Darlene Rovenhagen, Ann Sims, Lois Sluiter, and Shirley Wahl.

Baskets are attempted from eight different areas with each girl having twenty four shots. The girl making all eight shots in the least amount of tries is the winner. Scores will be sent in to the state GAA for competition with other schools in the state. The winning school will be awarded a trophy.

State Police to Carry Insignia of Rank on Collar

From now on look at his shirt collar, not his shoulder or sleeve, to make out the rank of an Illinois State Police officer.

The insignia of assistant superintendents, captains and lieutenants will be the same shape as formerly. The sleeve chevrons of sergeants will be replaced by a small metal collar badge in the form of three chevrons.

Announcement of this change comes from Chief William H. Morris.

Chester, common ending for English town names, comes from the Roman word castra meaning camp, since many were originally Roman camp sites.
